

Global & Imperial History Research Seminar Hilary Term 2020

The following seminars will be given at 4pm on Fridays in the Colin Matthew Room, History Faculty (with the exception of 6 and 13 March - see below).
Tea/coffee from 3.30pm in the Common Room – all welcome.

24 January: Professor Saliha Belmessous (University of South Wales)

'International treaties as imperial social contracts'

31 January: Professor Trevor Burnard (University of Melbourne)

"A Pack of Knaves": The Royal African Company, large plantations and the rise of the planter class and imperial commitment to the support of slavery in British America 1672-1708'

7 February: Dr Jennifer Altehenger (Merton, Oxford)

'Materials, design and revolution in the making of modern China'

14 February: Dr Benedetta Rossi (Birmingham)

'Slavery in the Nigerien Sahel: A Resilient Institution'

21 February: Dr Alex Middleton (Christchurch, Oxford)

'Napoleon III, the invasion of Mexico, and mid-Victorian liberalism'

28 February: Dr Dexnell Peters (Exeter, Oxford)

'Revolution, Empire and Entangled History in the Southern Caribbean'

6 March: Global & Imperial History graduate student research presentations, 10am-5pm

13 March: Global and Imperial History graduate students research presentations, 10am-5pm

OXFORD CENTRE FOR GLOBAL HISTORY

Convenors: Dr Erica Charters and Professor Jamie Belich

For more information contact: cheryl.birdseye@history.ox.ac.uk