

Global & Imperial History Research Seminar

Michaelmas Term 2019

Global(izing) Africa

The following seminars will be given at 4pm on Fridays in the Colin Matthew Room, History Faculty (with the exception of 8 November - see below). Tea/coffee from 3.30pm in the Common Room – all welcome.

18 October: Professor David Anderson (Warwick)

'Global Struggles and Africa's Cold War'

25 October: Dr Cheryl Birdseye (Oxford Brookes)

“You taught me language and my profit on it is I know how to curse”: Shakespeare's The Tempest in postcolonial criticism and performance'

1 November: Dr Chris Vaughan (Liverpool John Moores)

'The “federal moment” in East Africa: regionalism and the nation-state, 1958-1963'

8 November: Dr Tim Livsey (Northumbria) - History Faculty Lecture Theatre

'The view from Ikoyi: negotiating late colonialism in Nigeria'

15 November: Professor Paul Lane (Cambridge)

'Droughts, Pastoralists and Identities in Eighteenth and Nineteenth Century Kenya: an Archaeological Perspective'

22 November: Professor Gareth Austin (Cambridge)

'Global(izing) Africa: the case of economic history'

29 November: Dr Benedetta Rossi (Birmingham)

'Slavery in the Nigerien Sahel: A Resilient Institution'

6 December: Harriet Aldrich (St Hugh's, Oxford)

'The Condition of Exile: Ghanaian Political Exile Networks in the Post-Independence Period'

OXFORD CENTRE FOR GLOBAL HISTORY

Convenor: Professor Richard Reid

For more information contact global@history.ox.ac.uk